

Q-KNOW Workshop

Relational Analyses of Science and Higher Education

7 December 2021

9 am – 1 pm

Zoom

English Language

On the morning of 7 December, we will host a PhD workshop (in the English language), to discuss current approaches to research collaborations within science and the application of network analysis to better understand these patterns.

We welcome contributions from current research projects in which relational methods and/or theories are applied to contemporary phenomena and issues in higher education research or science studies. Contributions including one or more of the following topics are encouraged:

- Network Analysis
- Organizational Sociology
- Higher Education Research
- Bibliometrics
- Science and Technology Studies

If you would like to take part in our PhD workshop, please send a short abstract of your contribution (1-2 pages) to Achim Oberg (achim.oberg@uni-hamburg.de) by 15 November 2021.
